

Lunacon 2014 (2): Saturday

Even though Lunacon is over, I'm going to keep writing up my notes and impressions, if only to keep writing in general.

Saturday was the busiest day of the con, and it certainly showed in my personal programming grid. I faced the typical con paradox: Too many good panels all at the same time. I ended up at the following:

- Altering Time and Perception
- Write What You Don't Know
- Reading by Merav Hoffman
- Gamification in Education
- Magic and Religion
- Inter-temporal economics
- Is the Singularity Here?
- If I am Ever... (the Evil Overlord)
- The Future of Education
- The Eye of Argon
